

Getting started with iOS devices (iPhone®/iPad®/iPod® touch)

You can use OverDrive's mobile app to borrow and enjoy eBooks and audiobooks from your library on your iOS device (iPhone/iPad/iPod touch).

Step 1

Download our app  (OMC), from one of the following:

- Apple App Store
- <http://omc.overdrive.com/v3-available-now/ios.php>

Step 2

Open OMC and find your library's OverDrive-powered website. In newer versions of the app, you can do this by swiping from left to right to open the Home menu, then tapping + Add a library. In older versions of the app, tap the Get Books+ button, then Add a library.

- Tap the  to save your library's website to your library list.
- Tap your library's name to start browsing.

Step 3

Log into your library's OverDrive-powered website with your library card and borrow a book.

Step 4

Find borrowed books under your account in your library website. You can:

- Tap  EPUB Books* and MP3 audiobooks directly to OMC.
- Tap  to open and read OverDrive Read eBooks right in your browser.
- If you've installed the Kindle® reading app from the Apple App Store, select Kindle Book (U.S. only) to complete checkout on Amazon's website and send the book to your Kindle reading app.

Note: To read eBooks in OMC, follow the prompts to authorize your device with an Adobe® ID. It's a one-time, free process that takes just moments to complete.

Need more help?

Contact your library or visit OverDrive Help at help.overdrive.com.

Getting started with iOS devices (iPhone®/iPad®/iPod® touch)

You can use OverDrive's mobile app to borrow and enjoy eBooks and audiobooks from your library on your iOS device (iPhone/iPad/iPod touch).

Step 1

Download our app  (OMC), from one of the following:

- Apple App Store
- <http://omc.overdrive.com/v3-available-now/ios.php>

Step 2

Open OMC and find your library's OverDrive-powered website. In newer versions of the app, you can do this by swiping from left to right to open the Home menu, then tapping + Add a library. In older versions of the app, tap the Get Books+ button, then Add a library.

- Tap the  to save your library's website to your library list.
- Tap your library's name to start browsing.

Step 3

Log into your library's OverDrive-powered website with your library card and borrow a book.

Step 4

Find borrowed books under your account in your library website. You can:

- Tap  EPUB Books* and MP3 audiobooks directly to OMC.
- Tap  to open and read OverDrive Read eBooks right in your browser.
- If you've installed the Kindle® reading app from the Apple App Store, select Kindle Book (U.S. only) to complete checkout on Amazon's website and send the book to your Kindle reading app.

Note: To read eBooks in OMC, follow the prompts to authorize your device with an Adobe® ID. It's a one-time, free process that takes just moments to complete.

out of the norm. I had come to depend on my schedule: years to keep me on an even keel.

Geena secured her seatbelt. "We've spent a lifetime ourselves. What's a few more days or years?" Sarcastic I noted the bitterness in her tone, but I said nothing. I into this further. In fact, I wished fervently that I could brought the subject up.

Geena had already plugged in our address on the GF maneuvered through the ferry traffic to disembark. Light buildings and reflected on the black waters of Sinclair familiar. I followed the other cars onto Washington As word.

This was a huge mistake, I told myself. Over the years with our family secrets—our life of unspeakable quest world was Dad thinking to bring us all here now? I felt "At the next street make a right onto the Manette Bri about the time the GPS announced the same.

I suddenly felt exhausted. A sort of oppression had me—weighing me down, stealing all of my residual energy before I saw the flashing lights of the ambulance pop ahead of us. I braked hard and waited for it to pass, but ambulance in the tree-lined driveway of our summer home. I could still hear the paramedics calling out numbers: "She's not breathing. We're going to need to intubate." "She's not responding."

12% of House of Secrets

out of the norm. I had come to depend on my schedule: years to keep me on an even keel.

Geena secured her seatbelt. "We've spent a lifetime ourselves. What's a few more days or years?" Sarcastic I noted the bitterness in her tone, but I said nothing. I into this further. In fact, I wished fervently that I could brought the subject up.

Geena had already plugged in our address on the GF maneuvered through the ferry traffic to disembark. Light buildings and reflected on the black waters of Sinclair familiar. I followed the other cars onto Washington As word.

This was a huge mistake, I told myself. Over the years with our family secrets—our life of unspeakable quest world was Dad thinking to bring us all here now? I felt "At the next street make a right onto the Manette Bri about the time the GPS announced the same.

I suddenly felt exhausted. A sort of oppression had me—weighing me down, stealing all of my residual energy before I saw the flashing lights of the ambulance pop ahead of us. I braked hard and waited for it to pass, but ambulance in the tree-lined driveway of our summer home. I could still hear the paramedics calling out numbers: "She's not breathing. We're going to need to intubate." "She's not responding."

12% of House of Secrets